LEDA LISTENS: TOUR STOP AT SPRING HILL PHONE BANK TO HIGHLIGHT CIVIC ENGAGEMENT

(Murfreesboro, Tenn., August 18, 2014) – Civic engagement will be the focus of tomorrow’s Lenda Listens tour stop at 6 p.m., August 19, at United Auto Workers Local 1853, 125 Stephen P. Yokich Pkwy, Spring Hill, Maury County.

Sherrell, a certified public accountant who has managed million-dollar budgets working for educational and non-profit health care institutions, is running to represent voters of the 4th Congressional District. She has been hosting a series of Lenda Listens events across the district meeting with people while learning about challenges their communities face and the solutions residents have come up with to solve problems. Sherrell highlighted civic engagement yesterday when she met with Lorraine Powers, co-founder of an after-school program in South Pittsburg.

“Civic or citizen engagement means working to make a difference in our communities and promoting a better quality of life through the political and non-political process. No matter what stage we are in life, regardless of age or background, anyone can participate in being morally-minded citizens who recognize they are part of a larger society and have an obligation to learn about issues their communities face and take action when appropriate. Such action promotes a meaningful democracy that has benefitted and continues to benefit middle Tennesseans,” said Sherrell.
